Dear Editor,

I have a little white, fluffy cat. She was left on our driveway by a nasty person who drove off in a car. I feed her and love her very much, and I've named her Snowy. I want to be a vet when I grow up. Here is a picture of me, holding some flowers from our garden.

HEATHER ASBRIDGE, St. Helens.

Good for you, Heather. You certainly have a kind face, and I bet Snowy is pleased she's found a lovely new home . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

I live in Luton, near the famous marathon runner, Ian Thompson. When he won his Gold Medal at the European Games, people decorated the road he lived in with flags and bunting, strung from house to house. We used to see him training, but now he is married he has moved to the other side of town.

JANE MOOR, Luton.

Well, Jane, here is Ian, for everyone to see. Let's all wish him luck in this year's Olympics in Montreal . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

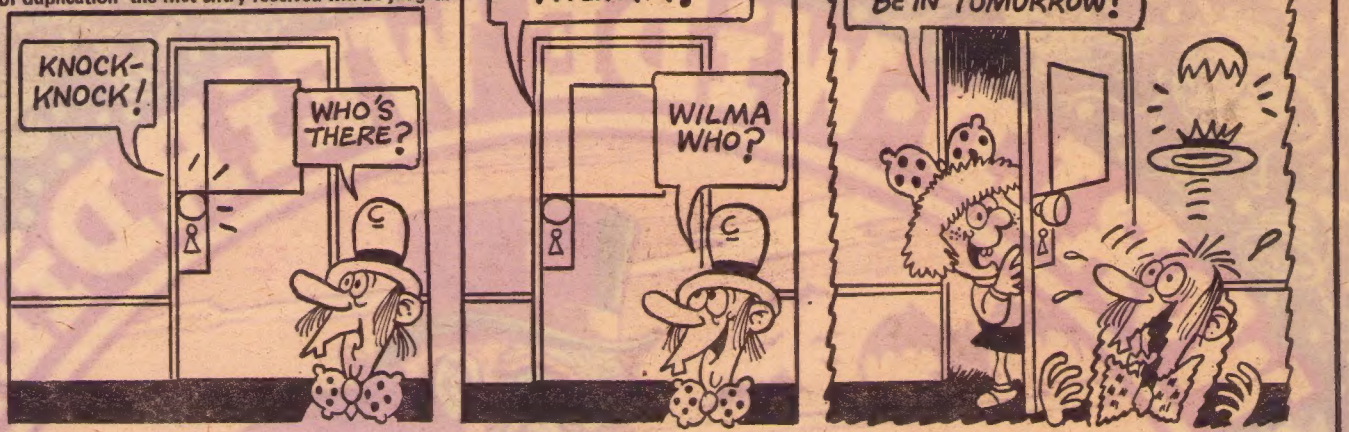
My brother was at Sunday school and the teacher was explaining how Lot's wife had turned into a pillar of salt. Then, my brother got up and said: "That's nothing! My Mum was driving along the road, and she turned into a lamp-post!"

STEPHEN JENKINS, Chepstow.

Thanks for your letter, Stephen, and also your picture which is printed below . . . Editor.

KNOCK KNOCK

JONATHAN WURR of ROUNDHAY. receives £1 as this week's winner. Send your entry to KNOCK-KNOCK at the WHOOPEE! address. In cases of duplication the first entry received will be judged.



Dear Editor,

I would like to tell you about the baby who lives next door to me. One day, she pinched my copy of WHOOPEE! and sat in a chair and pretended to read it. Then suddenly she shouted "WHOOPEE!" at the very top of her voice. It was the first word I'd ever heard her say.

TONY ROONEY, Anfield.

I see by your address you live quite near to Liverpool's football ground at Anfield. I reckon, the rate that baby's going, she'll soon be along there, 'shouting' on the Reds . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

A few days ago my sister came home saying that her teacher had brought a plant to school. My Mum then asked if it was a rubber plant, and my sister replied: "Of course not! It was a real one!"

RAYMOND BRADLEY, Bournemouth.

That's like the man who gave his housekeeper some asparagus for the soup. But when meal-time came around she said: "Here's your dinner . . . and I've put your dahlias in water!" . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

In our town we have a historic abbey, and lots of people believe that a headless monk and a grey lady haunt the place. So I went down there but unfortunately didn't see anything. A lot of people say it's just an old wives tale . . . but I'm not so sure . . .

SAMANTHA POPE, Bury.

An interesting story that, Samantha . . . have any other readers seen a ghost, or had anything ghostly happen to them? If so, write and tell me . . . Editor.
